DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As best understood, there is no disclosure in this application to energizing only one of the drive motors to move to the pre-selected positions. It appears that multiple panels and motor movement is disclosed.

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. See the above statements. No disclosure to single motor movement in response to the second operation is apparently disclosed in this application as filed. Applicant should point out specific page and line number as evidence, if applicant disagrees with this assessment.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1-2, 6-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Weissrich et al..

See column 4, lines 1-4 and 21-27. Specifically for applicant's edification, Weissrich et al. has a control unit unshown in the logic control for the various intermediate positions. Further, Weissrich et al. has a tachometer-dependent circuit as a control. Weissrich et al. has control element 21/23 having a range of adjustment 100-120 with a first rotary operation between 100-118 each corresponding to many more than three pre-selected positions, and a second push button operation for activating the control unit to move at least one of the roof members to one of the positions, either 119 or 120.

Applicant's arguments regarding the push button function not activating the control unit to move the roof assembly to the desired position is in error. If the button is not pressed, the switch, even if in the 119 or 120 position, will not activate the roof elements (col. 4, lines 27-28).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Weissrich et al. in view of Caye et al.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to provide in Weissrich et al. a control unit as taught by Caye et al. in order to selectively control the required logic functions. Applicant's arguments regarding the structure of the switch of Caye et al. are not relevant to the rejection, which merely concerned the use of a control unit as taught by Caye et al.

As to claim 3, the structure of claim 1 as embodied in the reference to Weissrich et al. allows the functions listed in the dependent claims. Use of a microprocessor control for a moveable roof system is set forth by Caye et al. prior to the invention of applicant. The specific functions listed in claims 3-4 are deemed to be merely conventional features in the switch art, known as a toggle function. Further, the use of "hands on" to override safety protocols, such as conventional pinch safety systems is well known in the art to prevent inadvertent stoppages. As applicant has not challenged these statements of judicial notice, they are made final. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill to provide in Weissrich et al. a programmable logic control as taught by Caye et al. as an efficient and adaptable control circuit. and further obvious to use a toggle function and a hands on switch control conventional features in the art.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments filed 12/23/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Please see the detailed action above.

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
